TROUBLES IN IRELAND.

Agitation of the Rent Question---Great Excitement--Arrests Made--Meetings Called and Defiant Posters Issued.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

London, Nov. 20—The home rule executive committee at its meeting in London to-day, O'Connor Power presiding passed a resolution protesting against the arrest of Davitt, Daly and Killen while delivering speeches on the rights of Irish tenantry The meeting also resolved to call upon Irishmen in Great Britain to establish a local defense committee to collect funds to secure a fair trial for the prisoners

The speeches for which Michael Davitt and James Boyce Killen were arrested in Dublin, and James Daly, editor of the Connaught Telegraph, in Castlebar, were made at a meeting on the 2d inst., at Gurteen, county Sligo The following placard has been posted in several places in county Mayo

"To the people of Mayo fellow countrymen" The hour of trial has come Your leaders are arrested. Davitt and Daly are in prison You know your duty. Will you do it? Yes, you will! Bolla is the place of meeting and Saturday is the day Come in your thousands and show the government and the world that your rights you will maintain to the end. Rise in the mightiness of your numbers Your land and your liberty! God save the people! Bolla! Bolla! Saturday next Saturday next!

All London morning journals approve the arrest except the Daily News, which makes them the occasion for a violent partisan attack.

London, Nov 20 —A correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says The government is placed in possession of much information by landlords in connection with the rent agitation in Ireland, which, for obvious reasons landlords can't make public. These statements show that tenants who are in position to pay their rents and are willing to pay are kept from doing so by fear of outrage from those who cannot or will not pay It is understood that a large number of processes of ejectment have been and will be applied for While it is feared that the execution of those processes will produce some difficulty it is believed if they are administered only in cases where there is no want of ability to pay and if time for payment is given to others the agitation will be much reduced.

ROBT ANDERSON [illegible] DEFENDED

[illegible]

Washington [illegible] Nov [illegible] [illegible] General McC[illegible] last night Miss Annie [illegible] read with fine effect an original poem by Edward [illegible] entitled "The Rock of Chickamauga" [illegible] line [illegible] name with three times [illegible] was followed by three rousing cheers [illegible] the programme for [illegible]

Loud calls were then made for [illegible] in response to which the gentleman stepped to the front of the platform [illegible] a short speech [illegible] speech as he termed it in which he [illegible] the army of the Cumberland for having done noble work and having done it well He eulogized the character and worth of General Thomas whose reputation was not ephemeral [illegible] as a rock Nothing could ever make the name and fame of Thomas He stated as a matter of history that to Robert Anderson had General Thomas been indebted for his commission as brigadier general It was now stated in a public print that Anderson had not been true to his country but he knew otherwise and if George Washington had been a patriot so too had Robert Anderson [Applause]

General Don Carlos Buell, in response to calls for a speech briefly alluded to one or two incidents in the history of the army of the Cumberland, to show that they were second to no other army in valor

Loud calls were made for Gen Garfield who stated that he, being a member of the society was not entitled to a seat on the platform and he suggested that Gen McDowell should be called upon for a speech That gentleman thereupon took the stand and paid an earnest tribute to the worth of Gen Thomas In conclusion he hoped that the audience would compel Gen Garfield to make a speech Thereupon the cries for Gen Garfield were renewed and he was obliged notwithstanding his protestation that he could not speak while such distinguished guests as President Hayes Secretary McCrary and Attorney Gen Devens were present, to address the assemblage He said that Gen McDowell in the course of his remarks had tried to sneer at him for being a congressman He (Garfield) knew that it was not altogether creditable but he took it for granted that his old relations with the army of the Cumberland would atone for that [Laughter] That army had had the great good fortune to have very little to do with Washington, or rather Washington had had too much to do with them [Laughter] The army of the Cumberland had been so far away from politics and politicians that it had got along pretty well without any dissensions In conclusion he eulogized the social and soldierly qualities of Gen Thomas

Loud calls were then made for President Hayes, and his appearance was the signal for enthusiastic cheers He spoke as follows

My Friends of the Army of the Cumberland I thank your committee for the courtesy which enables me to be present with you to night to take part with you in this agreeable family meeting I do not propose to enter upon any discussion of the principal topics of the day The history of the Army of the Cumberland all intelligent Americans know by heart. What nobler monument has ever been erected to any hero than the monument which has been alluded to by my friends here to night It was my fortune to hear that great speech delivered in Cleveland, Ohio, by General Garfield I thought at that time that it was the greatest speech that had ever been made on such an occasion It was a memorial address in honor of a patriot and soldier and again to day what a mighty speech we listened to on the same great subject! Therefore I am precluded from entering upon that subject and as my friend Garfield remarks that perhaps there was a little malice in General McDowell's forcing him upon the stand I am not so sure but there was a little of that feeling in his heart when he turned the audience over to me But yet I feel somewhat like taking up the gauntlet. He reflects upon and abuses congressmen and politicians and I am called upon to defend them but they need no defense [Loud laughter]

The president concluded with a pleasant personal talk with the soldiers and was succeeded by Secretary McCrary and others

Further Proceedings—Vindication of Gen. Robert Anderson.

Washington Nov 20 —The society of the Army of the Cumberland had a session to-day Capt McCrary of Columbus, Ohio presiding Gen Sherman read letters from Mrs E B Anderson and her daughter Eva denying charges of disloyalty against Gen Robt Anderson and asking the society to take some action in the matter Gen Sherman then offered the following resolution, and it was unanimously adopted

Resolved That the heartfelt sympathy of the society of the Army of the Cumberland is hereby tendered the widow and daughter of the first commander of the Army of the Cumberland that the society will ever bear in honorable memory his pure and noble character and his heroic devotion to his country and that they ever regret that his ill health in 1861 prevented him from reaping the fruits of his valor and courage in the cause of the Union that it will ever be remembered that to him the Army of the Cumberland owes a great debt for having supplied them with the leadership of Gen Thomas and that nothing but poverty prevents them from erecting a suitable testimonial over the honored grave of Gen Robt. Anderson at West Point.

Gen Jeff C Davis paid a tribute to the patriotism and loyalty of Gen. Anderson and said

Nobody who had ever seen that soldier at Fort Sumter would question his loyalty Columbia had made no mistake when she had sent down Robt Anderson to let slip the dogs of war [Cheers

Telegraphic greetings were ordered to be sent Generals Rosecrans and Sheridan Alexander Ramsey, Jr offered a resolution, extending an affectionate greeting to the widow and daughter of Gen Robert Anderson and assuring them that any insinuation against General Anderson needs no contradiction from the army of the Cumberland Unanimously adopted

Officers were chosen for the ensuing year as follows President General Phil Sheridan vice presidents General Underwood of Massachusetts General Barnum of New York General Carman of New Jersey General [illegible] of Pennsylvania, General Duffield of Michigan Colonel Hobson of Kentucky Captain E L Eurum of Tennessee General Morgan of Illinois General Steight of Indiana General Meyer of Ohio Colonel Johnson of Wisconsin Colonel [illegible] of Missouri, General Martin of Kansas Captain Wood of Minnesota Captain Sellick of Iowa Captain Steel, recording secretary and General [illegible] corresponding secretary Toledo was selected for the next meeting The thanks of the society were voted to Stanley Matthews Judge McArthur and Gen A G McCook The [illegible] of the Thomas statue was presented to the society and the meeting adjourned

COLL DEANE'S THREE BONANZAS.

Kearney Threatens to Raise a Row at Deane's Meeting but is Arrested in the Attempt.

THE PROMISED DISCLOSURES MADE TO AN IMMENSE CROWD

Resolutions Passed Condemning the Bonanza Firm--Other Meetings to Follow [illegible]

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

San Francisco Nov 20 [illegible] Deane [illegible] the [illegible] Bonanza [illegible] this evening [illegible] considerable [illegible] has brought Dennis Kearney [illegible] the front Kearney has been [illegible] about town to day of what he [illegible] the matter He says that [illegible] Deane [illegible] of the [illegible] thieves who [illegible] about $200 [illegible] years ago [illegible] Kearney [illegible] that amount with a broker [illegible] failed for [illegible] that [illegible] board was sold for $ [illegible] that [illegible] Deane who was then vice president of the board and chairman of the board [illegible] reported in favor of his and against [illegible] but in conjunction with the rest of the thieving gang bilked him out of his money that the creditors got none the gang capturing it all He says also that this evening he will go to Union Hall and say to Deane on the platform [illegible] where is the money you stole from me

At a meeting of the seventh ward club Kearney made a speech this evening in which he related his grievances He said that Deane should come before the public with clean hands He hoped that the legislature would put a padlock on that den of thieves the stock board and requested all workingmen to attend the meeting, promising that he would be there It is understood that ample arrangements have been made for any such contingency as Kearney insists, and it is altogether probable that he will not attempt to carry out his threat If he does there will be music in the air There is a very general disposition to attribute Kearney's action to his alleged relation with the Nevada bank party He was flatly charged to-day with making the proposed move in their interest and his change of color and excitement seemed to indicate that the shot had gone home though he denied it strenuously

Union Hall was crowded to suffocation this evening on the occasion of the meeting announced by Coll Deane a prominent stock operator for the purpose of telling the public the location of three new bonanzas which he claims exist on the Comstock and denouncing the management of mines controlled by J C Flood and his partners Dennis Kearney who has for several days announced his intention of breaking up the meeting, was present with a large force of his followers from the sand lots and before the meeting was called to order, rose in a body and made an attempt to organize a meeting Confusion ensued and Kearney was arrested and taken to a station house on a charge of disturbing a meeting Mr Deane in opening referred to his speech some months ago before the Bullion Club of New York, in which he stated that he would make known the whereabouts of three bonanzas unless the management speedily uncovered them He deplores the necessity of carrying out his threat and of censuring a man who had opportunities for doing good, J C Flood, the evil genius of the Bonanza firm He then dilated at considerable length on the alleged unscrupulous course of Flood and his partners and after defending himself from a charge of being inspired by sinister motives proceeded to locate the three bonanzas.

The first he asserted to be in Ophir extending into Mexican, probably into Union and perhaps into Sierra Nevada He advised no one to buy on his say so as Flood would inflate stocks and after unloading break them down and punish those following the speaker's advice He asserted that the existence of this bonanza on the 2200 foot level on Mexican was known to the bonanza firm two years ago, but that the development in Sierra Nevada was a surprise to them

The second bonanza he asserted was on the 2200 foot level of Hale & Norcross He did not know that it was a large one and had spoken of it before the Bullion Club simply as a good prospect He denounced the failure of Superintendent Deidesheimer of Hale & Norcross to inform the stockholders in his official letter, of a recent strike on the 2100 foot level of the mine The existence of this bonanza he claimed was known four years ago by the bonanza firm

The third bonanza he located in Yellow Jacket but not stating its whereabouts definitely He then alluded to Kearney's threat to break up the meeting and claimed that he was acting in the interest of J C Flood, calling attention to the fact that in all Kearney's denunciations of brokers mining operators etc he had scrupulously avoided attacking the bonanza firm

Referring to the Yellow Jacket bonanza he said that his statements would be fully borne out by an exploration of the mine and that it was a great mine As for proof of his assertions he could not betray the confidence of his informants but would state as an earnest of his belief that his wife had mortgaged her homestead to carry that stock He said Let the management make cross cuts where I will direct and if they fail to uncover ore bodies I shall be covered with confusion and lose every dollar I possess in the world Should they refuse to make such cross cuts it will then devolve on the stockholders to take strong measures to obtain justice

He then proceeded to denounce Flood in strong terms citing instances of the manner in which he had duped his friends and the public by giving false information regarding the condition and prospects of mines under his control thus ruining thousands He intimated that the bonanza firm was the enemy that caused the failure of the Bank of California and compared Ralston and Flood to the disadvantage of the latter The rapacity of these men he continued should be no longer suffered The press pulpit and public opinion should band together to check the [illegible] career He advocated the formation of a combination powerful enough to fight the Bonanza firm in the market and urged operators to enroll names for that purpose He then gave Kearney a severe scoring for his action in the premises and concluded by an appeal to the public to throw off the bondage of the bonanza firm

At the conclusion of Deane's address resolutions were read by Mr Fay denouncing the manner in which by the use of the [illegible] the breaking of pumping gear flooding of mines putting out of false information and general dishonest management and manipulation the community had been plundered [illegible] protesting against the abuse of delegated power in the management of the mines and urging that in the event [illegible] inaugurated [illegible] general movement [illegible] organized to overthrow the oligarchy of the Nevada bank

J J [illegible] followed stating that it was the first of a series of meetings to be held with a view of [illegible] and read resolutions [illegible] for the organization of a legislative [illegible] under the subject of awarding the furnishing of supplies to the lowest bidder [illegible]

The resolutions were adopted by a [illegible]

A lone and unarmed traveler while crossing the Dairy creek mountains on the Nehalem road last week encountered a large female bear and two cubs Thinking to see them scamper in affright to the tops of the trees he made a feint of rushing upon them He nearly fainted when he saw the faint effect of his feint The mother bear charged too with hostile front, whereupon the luckless adventurer was glad to dispose of himself amid the topmost branches of an adjacent sapling The bear soon withdrew, leaving the bold traveler to go on his way in peace

Vancouver Independent We are told there are a couple of individuals in this town who live on the lower end of Main street who are at times guilty of cruel and inexcusable beating of their small children The thing is becoming so notorious in their neighborhood that a repetition of the offense will receive attention and a vigorous prosecution to the full extent of the law The matter will doubtless be placed before the grand jury unless the parties leave the town

FRIDAY MORNING NOV 21 1879

CONKLING AND TILDEN

The position and temper of Mr Conkling and of Mr Tilden are just now giving their respective parties a great deal of trouble Both men are powerful in New York and while each party feels that it must have New York next year neither is certain that it can succeed either with or without the leader who has so great a hold upon it If Mr Conkling's favorite candidate should not be nominated for the presidency—and it isn't likely he will be—then Conkling probably will sulk his friends will be lukewarm and the party will get treacherous support and fifth rib stabs On the other hand should the Conkling influence be in the ascendant there is danger that many thousands of republicans will resent it, as they have done this year by refusing to vote for Conkling's candidate Mr Cornell But as it is not likely that Mr Conkling will be nominated for the presidency or that he will be able to control the nomination in the interest of some other person the chances are that the first danger is the one which will present itself to the republicans namely that the Conkling influence in New York will be secretly against the republican nominee as was the case in 1876 This may not be fatal but it is a probability of danger that creates a good deal of solicitude in the minds of those republicans who are far sighted observers of the under currents of politics

It is a curious fact that the democrats are in a similar though even more serious dilemma with reference to New York Mr Tilden has a still firmer hold upon the democratic party in that state than Mr Conkling has upon the republican and he rules with a temper even more selfish and imperious He forced an open bolt from the party rather than let go his hold upon it and as his personal enemies have committed political suicide by that bolt he is left supreme master of the organization in the state Now the republican party may carry New York even if Mr Conkling sulks in his tent, but the democratic party can by no possibility carry the state if Mr Tilden be absent from the contest Tilden's position is universally understood to be this If he cannot himself succeed he will lend no aid to a rival or to speak still more plainly, he will permit no rival to succeed His friends already say as much This year, 'knifing' has been attempted, and next year the knife may be in other hands One of the most powerful of Mr Tilden's friends (Watterson of the Louisville Courier Journal) expresses the whole idea and purpose in a declaration to those who are proposing to substitute Mr Bayard or General Hancock for Mr Tilden, that neither Bayard nor Hancock "ever will or ever can reach the White House over Mr Tilden's political dead body."

Should New York be carried by the democrats its vote with that of the solid south still would not be enough Indiana, then is looked to as the most probable state to furnish the balance so now it is the talk that the ticket must be made up mainly with a view to New York and Indiana. Hendricks will not again accept the second place and his friends are pushing him for the first place and looking for a New York man for the second. But Hendricks has coquetted with the western greenbackers, and could not possibly carry New York even if Tilden were willing And besides, Hendricks never did amount to much. The democratic candidate must be acceptable to the eastern and bondholding section of the party, or he is hamstrung for the race before it begins. Bayard or Hancock would doubtless be acceptable, but with Tilden sullen or rebellious, which of them can carry New York? Having planted and watered he will not consent to give another the increase Tilden though defeated, is still by far the greatest power in his party. As a political manager he has no equal, and as the holder of the money bags of an otherwise impecunious party, he will still have immense influence. It will be urged that he has met this temporary reverse through a treachery in his own party which has now done its worst, and that he is still the only man upon whom a campaign can be organized with any show of success And in this statement there will be much force, for if his party cannot win with him it is almost a certainty that it cannot win without him Outside of him it has not and cannot gather resources for the contest.

Both Mr. Conkling and Mr Tilden therefore are sources of weakness and also of strength to their respective parties But there is a difference. It is far safer for the republican party to proceed without reference to Mr. Conkling, than for the democratic party to ignore Mr. Tilden. But both are in one sense bad men for their parties, because the temper and position of both are sources of danger. In Mr. Tilden's case, however, it is the more so, because his is the more commanding position Yet the very methods by which he has made himself indispensable to his party have raised up enemies against him who may have power to compass his overthrow.

CRITICISM OF JUSTICE FIELD

Justice Field has subjected himself to censure from many quarters for the tone of his dissenting opinion on the Pacific railroad acts One of the most pointed of these criticisms is by the Albany Law Journal That publication asserts that the legal questions involved did not call for his diatribe on state rights. 'Heaven forbid," it says, 'that the supreme court should again become a political arena We say again,' for once it was In the Dred Scott case a majority of the judges conceived that they could settle the troubles of the country by an obiter judicial repeal of the Missouri compromise—an act which did more than anything else to precipitate the rebellion, by inflaming northern sentiment against the south We would recommend to Mr Justice Field a careful study of the private history of the Dred Scott case as narrated in Mr Curtis' recent memoirs of Mr Justice Curtis. If he thus lugs politics into a case where they do not belong, what may we not expect when the court comes to the so-called political cases now pending before them' We do not learn that any of the other judges deemed this railroad case to involve the doctrine of state rights in its political sense and it seems to us that his peroration is not only unwise and unnecessary but offensive to the other members of the bench

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH

Few things are more remarkable or surprising than the rapid growth and extension of the business of this company The annual report of the president of the company for the year ending June 30 1879 recently published contains a statement showing the mileage of lines and wires the number of offices and the business of the company during each of the last fourteen years From this we learn that in 1866 the company owned 37 380 miles of line with 5 680 miles of wire and had 2500 offices The number of messages was about 5 000 000 Since then the mileage of wire has been steadily and enormously increased and yet the increase in traffic year by year has been much more rapid than in the amount of wire or the number of offices. Last year the company had 211 566 miles of wire, 8534 offices and sent upward of 25 000 000 messages, on which the charges were nearly $11,000,000 and the profits $4 800 000 News reports transmitted over the wires have increased at a rate even more rapid than commercial business The capital stock of the company in round numbers is $41 000 0

Information from Virginia is to the effect that northern men who have been engaged for some time in developing the mineral and other interests of the state [illegible] the result of the late [illegible] in Virginia They have already received notice that the [illegible] who had contemplated making early investments there have abandoned their project while some who have made a start in several ventures in the state are wondering how they can best wind up their affairs and return to the north While the debt payers may make an armistice [illegible] and while a present cutting of interest is possible since the government [illegible] looking in that direction still the debtpayers are much discouraged over the situation fearing that the vote of the repudiationists will be heavy as to inflict an injury upon the credit of the state which cannot be repaired

Among the branches of business which feel the impulse of the rising tide of better times the shoe and leather trade holds a prominent place The Shoe and Leather Reporter of New York says that the markets have recently been swept quite bare of whole stocks of leather and that prices have greatly advanced It is not surprising indeed that such a result should be noted in the case of this great staple when there is a general movement towards activity in other leading lines of trade Prices will tend upward We are told that the advance in shoes and leather goods within six months average thirty three and a third per cent The tide of business is at its flood In rubber goods the advance has perhaps been greater than in leather and manufacturers are unable even at the advanced rates to fill orders

The St Louis Republican is one of those leading democratic journals which try to cultivate a cheerful frame of mind It says

Perhaps had the elections of this year gone democratic many mistakes and blunders might have endangered the congressional and state contests of 1880 Perhaps the flush of victory will develop the real antagonism the real purposes of the republican party Perhaps the people will at last and in time, see the dangers into which the republican party is carrying the country The editor of the Republican belongs to the school of philosophers who think things are never so bad but they might be worse

The postoffice at Chicago now does more business than any other except that at New York Heretofore the Philadelphia office has stood second but Chicago now jumps ahead This is a fact of significance as to the growth of the great western city Another striking fact is that the receipts of the Chicago postoffice are greater than those of the states of Tennessee, Arkansas Mississippi Georgia and West Virginia combined

People of Southern California are taking great interest in the report that the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe railroad is to be pushed through to San Diego It will reach the Rio Grande by the close of the present year Fifteen hundred men are at work upon it and the road is being extended westward at the average rate of a mile a day

We publish to day a list of all the laws enacted by the legislature of Washington territory at the recent session It will be found important to readers in the territory and to members of the bar and others in Oregon

CITY.

Miss Belle DuBois.—[illegible] the interest [illegible] generally felt and expressed [illegible] and especially among musicians to hear Miss Belle DuBois sing an OREGONIAN reporter asked through a friend permission to call on the lady. His request was granted and he was cordially received yesterday afternoon at the family residence on [illegible] street near Jefferson. Miss DuBois is a splendid specimen of the true American girl. She is a trifle above medium height, modest and unassuming, has a graceful form and handsome carriage. She has a clear, rosy complexion, brown hair, bright hazel eyes and the prettiest kind of pearly teeth. She has been absent from Portland nearly four years, during which time she had uninterrupted vocal training by the best teachers in Boston. When asked to sing, she without the conventional apologies [illegible] gave [illegible] Arditi's "L'Ardita"—a selection which displayed her powers to good advantage with more artistic finish and grace of expression than are usually attained even by experienced professionals. Miss DuBois has a clear soprano voice of wonderful purity and compass, and under perfect control. She skipped from the highest to the lowest note and vice versa, went through the most intricate vocal gymnastics and gave exquisitely delicate trills apparently without effort. In every note, and especially in the cadenzas, her voice rang out clearly and showed the fine cultivation that can be acquired only by the most diligent study and experienced training. She afterwards sang the little gem "I Love My Love," introducing several beautiful trills in admirable style. Miss DuBois is not a prima donna, nor can she be called an extraordinary vocalist, but if she sings as well on the occasion of her debut in this city as she did yesterday those who hear her and can appreciate good music will enjoy a treat seldom heard except on the operatic stage.

Its Need Apparent.—The need of a main sewer or some general means of draining the northern part of the city is very apparent whenever a hard rain comes. The streets are generally level from First to Seventh and from A to G street, and whatever water falls on the ground remains there until the thirsty earth drinks it up, but as the earth is not very thirsty in the winter time in this peculiar climate, the rain water generally lies on the surface many days. As the railways on North First and North Fourth streets cut off the gutter drains which amounted to no benefit, the whole of the above named district is almost entirely without surface drainage.

Another Statement.—Mr W R Bozarth of Clarke county, W. T., writes a letter to THE OREGONIAN, relative to the recent accident or folly which resulted in the death of Mrs Olive Millard, near Pekin. The report which we published was from a most reliable source and stated that Fisher who fired the fatal shot was snapping caps on his gun which he pointed toward the unfortunate woman in order to frighten her. Mr Bozarth denies this, and says that Fisher was drying the barrel of his gun after cleaning it by snapping caps and that he did not purposely point it toward Mrs Millard, nor know that she was in range.

Down the Willamette.—The dam at the head of the Willamette slough intended to force the waters of the Willamette river through their natural channel into the Columbia, is now practically complete and its results so far are highly satisfactory. The work of building a similar dam from Sauvie's island to the head of Coon or Dead Men island, a distance of about 3000 feet, intended to prevent the escape of water through Coon island slough, has already commenced and about 500 feet has been completed. Efforts are also being made to protect the exposed head of Sauvie's island from erosion.

Lighthouse Construction.—The lighthouse now in progress of construction on the sound, will greatly aid the commerce of Puget Sound, now so rapidly increasing. The light at Point Wilson, just below Port Townsend, is nearly completed and will be displayed after the 15th of December. The Point No Point light, twenty-five miles above Port Townsend, will be displayed for the first time on the 1st of January. Mr Wheeler, superintendent of construction of lighthouses in this district, will be engaged on the proposed Tillamook Rock light, so soon as the work on the sound is completed.

Good for Augusta.—Australia is going crazy over Augusta Dargon. The leading paper of Sydney says that she is superior to Ristori, Helen Fawcett, and Miss Bateman, and, without any exception, the greatest actress who has ever visited that country. In Stephen Fiske's dramatization of Tennyson's "Queen Mary," she is said to have "carried the applause of the audience by storm," and "the man who could witness the performance unmoved deserves to be pitied and commiserated, and to have public prayers offered up for him!" That's what may be called enthusiasm.

Streets Ordered Improved.—The common council have passed ordinances for the improvement of streets which are yet to be surveyed and let to contractors: Grading Water street full width from Hall street to Columbia street; laying sidewalks and crosswalks and grading F street from North Front street to North Thirteenth street; grading and laying sidewalks and crosswalks on the west side of North Nineteenth street, from B street to I street. It is also proposed to improve B street by laying the newly planned 16-inch macadam from Northwest Park to North Ninth street.

Annual Fair.—The ladies connected with the Taylor Street M. E. Church will hold their Annual Church Fair at Good Templar Hall, corner Alder and Third streets. The ladies are determined not only to sustain the popularity of their fairs, but to surpass anything in that line that has been held heretofore. Come everybody and bring all your cousins. The fair will open on Tuesday morning, the 25th, and last three days. A splendid lunch will be served every day and evening, and will close with a grand turkey Thanksgiving dinner.

A Remarkable Product.—Mr Al. Zeiber of the Clarendon hotel, yesterday showed to an OREGONIAN reporter several fine fully developed hickory nuts which grew in Marion county on the farm of his father whose death occurred recently. The tree upon which the nuts grew is about eight inches in diameter at the base, thirty feet high and straight as an arrow. It is the product of a single nut planted twenty years ago by Mr Zeiber and this year bore for the first time.

State of California.—This steamer arrived here last evening at 5 o'clock from San Francisco. The steamer experienced a very smooth passage coming up, very few of the passengers getting sick. The automatic buoy was reached at 2 A. M. yesterday when the steamer waited until 6 A. M. Astoria was reached at 8 A. M., and the steamer sailed for Portland at 10:30.

JOHN LLOYD vs HUBBARD WARD & CO

This cause recently occupying the attention of our court and the bar generally is based upon the following facts:

Some years ago Hubbard Ward, James Daly and Orin Joynt entered into a copartnership in an extensive liquor business in San Francisco under the firm name of Daly & Ward, Joynt being a dormant or silent partner. This firm, in 1876, was dissolved by the retirement therefrom of James Daly. Hubbard Ward then continued the business alone for a short time and finally formed a copartnership with Geo C Joynt, a nephew of Orin's, under the firm name of Hubbard Ward & Co.

In 1877 Ward & G. C. Joynt were adjudged bankrupt, and not being able to effect a settlement with their creditors the business was broken up. About eight months ago several of the creditors of H Ward & Co., assigned their claims, aggregating about $30,100 to John Lloyd, who, acting upon the assertion of Hubbard Ward that Orin Joynt was a partner in the late firm of H Ward & Co, instituted an action against that firm in our circuit court, for the amount last named, claiming in the complaint that Orin Joynt was a partner. Immediately upon the filing of the complaint the plaintiff caused the property of Orin Joynt, situated in our city, to be attached.

Mr Orin Joynt admitted that the firm of H Ward & Co were indebted to the plaintiff in the sum alleged but denied being a partner. This one point, partner or no partner, was the whole and only issue in the cause. The jury, after a trial lasting through several days, found from the evidence adduced for the defendant, Orin Joynt.

THE WALKING MATCHES.

Continuation of the 72-Hour Walking Contest between Von Berg and Sturges at Armory Hall

Firemen Contest at Turn Halle—Wilson of No. 4 makes the Remarkable Record of [illegible] Miles in [illegible] Hours.

[illegible] from the crowd that [illegible] at Armory Hall during [illegible] and Wa[illegible] there are a great many who [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] efforts to accomplish [illegible] merits [illegible]

[illegible] between Miss V[illegible] [illegible] knows [illegible] [illegible] how [illegible] Mr. Von B[illegible] [illegible] way of walking [illegible] [illegible] she [illegible] her average [illegible] present [illegible] reputation which will make her [illegible] profession.

[illegible] ever wear [illegible] walkers still maintain their [illegible] and winning many friends [illegible] show their appreciation of them in their many little presents [illegible] compliments. Night before last they both enjoyed a good sleep and consequently felt in the best of spirits all day yesterday.

The next most interesting event on the programme is the walking match to take place between the several military companies commencing next Saturday evening. Besides the names that have been handed in already there are the following representing the Washington Guard: Archie Clark, [illegible] Kelly and Jas Sheridan. These three men are all known experts who are likely to make a good showing, each being engaged in business which makes them admirably adapted to enter into such an undertaking with every prospect of success.

This evening it is expected that the hall will be crowded to witness the finish of the 72 hour race, and as both are determined to put forth their best endeavors in their attempts to be victorious, it will be interesting.

At Turn Halle

Those who saw the start in the firemen's race Wednesday night had no conception of the pluck and endurance of the six contestants. Many expressed the opinion that all would take things easy, would sleep when they were sleepy, and rest when they were tired, and then do their best walking in the last ten hours of the match. The score for the first 24 hours shows that the boys are as good walkers as they are firemen, and the record of miles would not look bad if attached to the names of professional pedestrians.

Thompson (Ones) walked briskly all night and ran several miles. Yesterday morning soon after drinking a glass of iced soda water, he was taken violently ill and vomited considerably. After two hours' rest and medical treatment he made his appearance again but complained of dizziness. At 11 o'clock last night he had been off 7 hours and 26 minutes. Grenfell (Twos), Wilson (Fours) and Johnson (Fives) have walked much faster than the others and made some splendid spurts, but will probably not be in as good condition to-day as Griffin (Threes) and McLane (H & L) who have reserved themselves, both walking slowly and resting often. It is expected that Griffin will make some excellent time to-day. He has been in splendid spirits and is the comedian of the crowd, furnishing day and night all manner of fun for his competitors. At midnight all the walkers, except Thompson, were in excellent condition and bid fair to hold on the 72 hours. Thompson has a splendid constitution and may be all right by morning. The following is the official score at 11 o'clock last night for the first twenty four hours:

1 Thompson, 72 miles 21 laps, off the track 7 hours 26 minutes.
2 Grenfell, 80 miles 23 laps, off the track 4h 43m.
3 Griffin, 71 miles 10 laps, off the track 5h 6m.
4 Wilson, 96 miles, off the track 2h 40m.
5 Johnson, 80 miles 10 laps, off the track [illegible]h 52m.
6 McLane, 73 miles 3 laps, off the track [illegible].

Wilson's time is the best ever made by an amateur in a seventy-two hour contest, and is said not to have been excelled even in a twenty-four hour race by non-professionals.

There was a good attendance during the entire day and last night the hall was crowded. Few bets have as yet been made on the result, the friends of each contestant holding back to see what condition the men will be in to-night before backing their judgment with coin. Oscar Kilbourn will sell pools on the race this evening. The pedestriennes under Messrs Love & Thall's management will give exhibitions between 8 and 10 P. M.

At 12:20 A. M. Wilson had completed his 100th mile.

COURT NOTES.

County court will convene to-day.

There was no United States court yesterday.

Every one who knows Judge Bellinger is aware that he is not only a very courteous gentleman, but is also possessed of a large share of good nature if not downright forbearance. But yesterday he did lose his patience for once, and not without good and sufficient reason too. During the trial of the case of state of Oregon vs H E Burroughs, who was indicted for assault with intent to commit rape, a witness named Thos. McCreary was put on the stand. It appears the witness testified to two contradictory statements and on being rigidly cross examined was equally positive about the truth of each. Indeed so inconsistent were the statements and so positively did Creary swear that Judge Bellinger became quite indignant. As soon as the witness left the stand the court stated that such a thing could not be permitted. Either the witness was stupid to an unpardonable degree, or else he had committed wilful perjury. If the former were true the jury ought not to take judicial notice of such testimony, and if the latter was the case Creary ought to be punished for perjury, and in the same connection he called District Attorney Caples' attention to the fact. The matter will doubtless be investigated.

The case of state of Oregon vs John A. Carr, who is under indictment for bribery, has been set for trial next Wednesday. While the matter was being discussed before the court a quiet and good natured passage at arms took place between District Attorney Caples and Mr Dolph and Mr Williams, who appear as counsel for the defendant. Mr Caples stated that for certain reasons he did not desire the case to come up for trial for a few days. On being pressed by the opposing counsel to give his "certain reasons," Mr Caples stated that a "certain gentleman whose name he did not wish to mention then, who was an important witness in the case and who had testified before the grand jury, had left the city within the past three days, or at least," said Mr Caples, "he cannot be found although the officer has made thorough and diligent search for him. I have received an intimation that service may be had on this 'certain gentleman' by Saturday. It is desirable to have him, as his testimony will have an important bearing in the case. For that reason I wish the case to be put off until I know when the attendance of this witness can be secured." On being pressed by Mr Williams to name the certain gentleman, he hesitated a moment and gave in open court the name of the witness who had apparently been spirited away. He added that while he was strongly of the opinion that the witness had not left Portland of his own accord, still he desired to state publicly that he did not mean directly or indirectly to reflect on the counsel for the defense or to attribute in any way the absence of this important witness to the action of the attorneys.

SANITARY VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND [illegible] WINES

Mr Scheffler is the proprietor of the process known as the vacuum process of distilling by which the fusel oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which [illegible] to [illegible] all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California [illegible] have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox, government [illegible] officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report that after ten years of close analysis he can safely say that very few if any [illegible] wines or brandy are exported from the United States. [illegible] has [illegible] analyses—[illegible] for [illegible] Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of [illegible] dangerous drugs in all the French wines that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from respectable parties addressed to Wm Scheffler, or Geo H Beach, St Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

The amount of street improvement being carried on this year and their general extension over outlying parts of the city may be judged by the fact that the city surveyor has reported to the common council with the [illegible] report of surveys to extend Market street from Eighth street [illegible] to Fourteenth in Carter's addition, together with [illegible] apportioned for [illegible] streets from North [illegible] to North Twenty [illegible] and of North Twenty [illegible] feet from B to I, [illegible] which the [illegible] see.

"Smoke New York or Wood Tag" cigars.

Nabob Whisky is recommended by the faculty for family and medical use. It is pure and is the best whisky on the Pacific coast for indigestion, nervousness and dyspepsia.

DR SLADE

The celebrated medium will be at St Charles Hotel Friday evening, Nov 21st, and can be consulted daily from 9 A M to 9 P M. This will be the last opportunity of consulting this world-renowned medium previous to his departure for his home in the east.

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said "No man with a strong, healthy stomach ever committed suicide," yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia when a single bottle of DR. MINTIE'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief, and, if persisted in, cure the worst case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver, is suited to any climate, wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations; genuine has cut of Root on outside wrapper. Price 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholesale agents.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor or if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, scanty urine, inflammation, calculi, brick dust deposit or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder buy a bottle of Dr MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM, the great Kidney Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll, Wholesale Druggists, say: "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggist, Portland, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1.25. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Wholesale Agents.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative.

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $5 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

Financial

[illegible]

The constant [illegible] condition of the grain market seems to have had a tendency to make the idle money seek other opportunities for investment and borrowers in some instances find rates a little easier but the bulk of transactions are on the old basis

The upward tendency of prices on most staple articles of general merchandise which has been noted from time to time for two months past has not been particularly marked the past week though the high prices to which commodities had gone have been firmly maintained. General trade is tolerably active and preparation for the approaching holiday business more ample than [illegible]

THE MARK LANE REPORT

England's Wheat Deficiency Eighteen Million Quarters—Prices Unsettled and Trade Feeling its way Cautiously

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

LONDON Nov 20 —The Mark Lane Express says Except a few beans the harvest is now secured in England. In the Scotch uplands cereal crops are still being harvested mostly in an unripe state. The Scotch harvest however will probably be terminated in a week or ten days. Farmers generally availed themselves of favorable weather for field operations which continued up to Friday last, when there was a sharp frost. Threshing has been neglected. The supplies at country markets were consequently light, and wheat in fit state for either sowing or milling was decidedly scarce. Fortunately a good area has already been sown in wheat under circumstances which augur favorably

Recent uncontradicted estimates of this year's crop show that it will be necessary to import 18 000 000 quarters of foreign wheat. Doubtless with every allowance for possible exaggeration the crops are desperately bad

The Mark Lane and country markets have been dull. With liberal arrivals from abroad prices have fallen a shilling for all descriptions of wheat. There was not much pressure to sell but the enormous visible supply in America and uncertainty as to actual extent of surplus available for export thence caused pretty general abstention of buyers. Until something more definite is known trade must feel its way cautiously. In some quarters a strong opinion prevails that wheat will prove remunerative even at present prices. Doubtless the decline of a shilling will bring forward a number of speculative buyer

The arrivals at ports of call have been large. Early in the week wheat off coast declined as low as 54 shillings for red winter for the continent but subsequently prices rallied 6d to a shilling per quarter. Maize is in fair inquiry principally for the continent at about late rates. Wheat for shipment is quiet in consequence of high prices asked in America. Maize is dull. Barley receded 6 pence to a shilling per quarter. Sales of English wheat last week amounted to 39 63x quarters at 48s 9d per quarter against 54,749 quarters at 40s 7d per quarter same week last year

Imports into United Kingdom for week ending Nov 18th 1,386,480 centals wheat and 243 591 cwts flour

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

HAS RETURNED AFTER AN EXTENSIVE tour of the Eastern States for the past four months. The Doctor while absent visited all the principal Medical institutions in the large cities of the United States and comes back with all the modern methods instruments and appliances known to the most scientific men in the profession. The Doctor has also brought charts and manikins to illustrate his lecture

DR PAUL M BRENAN has been fifteen years lecturing on the Laws of Life and Health. In his private and public lectures he has taught men and women the true system of life how to be healthy and happy if they would only be guided by his wise counsel. But all cannot hear his delightful and instructive lectures nor can he tell everything necessary for suffering humanity to know from the public rostrum before a promiscuous audience. There remains much to be learned from him as his experience extends over broad fields of acute professional life. This knowledge so necessary to the welfare of the sufferer can only be gleaned by private Professional Consultation at his office

His experience in the various parts of Europe and America give him such opportunities of learning the delicate diseases which the human family are prone to their mode of treatment and permanent cure as no other physician on the Pacific Coast can claim. He has not only treated these diseases most successfully but has made them a life study as a few moments consultation will prove

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession

IT IS TRUE

That persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution [illegible] corrupted their organization broken [illegible] and the hope of future happiness [illegible] comes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence

Those who call in time upon DR PAUL M BRENAN [illegible] health and vigor [illegible]
